

INTRODUCING SONOMA COAST AVA

Martin Ray
VINEYARDS & WINERY

With our foundation built on making wines of place that are balanced as well as our love for cool climate Chardonnay and Pinot Noir, we are finding a place in our portfolio for the Sonoma Coast AVA. This transition from Sonoma County to Sonoma Coast expands upon our ability to source thoughtfully but is also another example of our dedication to quality.

2017 SONOMA COAST CHARDONNAY

ESTIMATED RELEASE:
June 2018

Aromas of orange blossom with fresh notes of Meyer lemon curd, bosc pear, citrus zest, and a vibrant acidity that finishes with Tahitian vanilla bean and honey.

COMPETITIVE SET:

La Crema
Sonoma Cutrer
MacRostie
Chalk Hill

2017 SONOMA COAST PINOT NOIR

ESTIMATED RELEASE:
August 2018

Bright pomegranate and cranberry lead to subtle notes of Rainier cherry and cola. Soft, silky tannins finish with a hint of clove and well integrated oak.

COMPETITIVE SET:

La Crema
Sonoma Cutrer
MacRostie
Chalk Hill

From the southerly reaches of the Petaluma Gap to the mountainous terrain that borders the Pacific Ocean, and the inland hills with low laying fog, the Sonoma Coast is one of the most ideal growing regions for Chardonnay and Pinot Noir in the world.

Morning fog that often hangs on long into the day before giving way to warm direct sun, gives the vines and fruit an extended growing season to optimize its distinct terroir. This results in distinctive, racy acidity and ripe fruit, with finished wine that is ideal for food and aging.

Taking pride in the myriad of profiles of fruit that develop from the cool climate and elevation, we often think of the Sonoma Coast as the most varied and vintage driven of all.